

Distant Sun

Crowded House

Tell me all the things you would change
 I don't pretend to know what you want
 When you come around and spin my top
 Time and again, time and again

No fire where I lit my spark
 I am not afraid of the dark
 Where your words devour my heart
 And put me to shame, put me to shame

When your seven worlds collide
 Whenever I'm by your side
 And dust from a distant sun
 Will shower over everyone

You're still so young to travel so far
 Old enough to know who you are
 Wise enough to carry the scars
 Without any blame, there's no one to blame

It's easy to forget what you learned
 Waiting for the thrill to return
 Feeling your desire burn
 And drawn to the flame

When your seven worlds collide
 Whenever I'm by your side
 And dust from a distant sun
 Will shower over everyone

And dust from a distant sun
 Will shower over everyone

And I'm lying on the table
 Washed out in a flood
 Like a Christian fearing vengeance from above
 I don't pretend to know what you want

But I offer love

Seven worlds collide
 Whenever I'm by your side
 And dust from a distant sun
 Will shower over everyone

And dust from a distant sun
 Will shower over everyone
